Dave Winfield is the only athlete ever to have been drafted by the NBA, NFL and MLB. A 12-time All-Star, Dave was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 2001 -- his first year of eligibility -- receiving the most votes cast.

His 22-year career began with the San Diego Padres, followed by the New York Yankees, California Angels, Toronto Blue Jays, where he drove in the winning run of the 1992 World Series, Minnesota Twins, and Cleveland Indians.

Dave was one of the first athletes to create a charitable Foundation. The Winfield Foundation provided healthcare, scholarships, holiday dinners and substance abuse prevention to children in and beyond the 6 major league cities in which he played. His philanthropy earned him numerous honors, including: the YMCA Brian Piccolo Award, the Branch Rickey Community Service Award and Major League Baseball's Roberto Clemente Award.

Winfield has served on the boards of President Clinton's National Service Program, Morehouse School of Medicine, Hackensack Medical Center, Major League Baseball Players Trust and the Peace Corps. He currently serves as a member of the board of the San Diego Padres, and is their Vice President/Senior Advisor.

Dave has been a studio baseball analyst for FOX Television. He appeared in the movie The Last Home Run, and made appearances on popular sitcoms Married With Children, The Drew Carey Show and Arli$$.

Topping off Dave's career are his numerous literary accomplishments. His autobiography, Winfield: A Player's Life became a New York Times best seller. He also wrote a drug education book, TURN IT AROUND! There's No Room Here For Drugs; an acclaimed "how-to" The Complete Baseball Player.

Dave resides in Bel Air, California with his wife, Tonya, and their twins, Arielle and David.
